VERMONT TRANSCRIPT

Vol. 4.

THE TRANSCRIPT.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY. WILBUR P. DAVIS, Editor and Pro-

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION . To those receiving the paper through the Post-lee, $4.00 per annum. To Village subscribers tering the paper by the carrier, 50 cents in gian will be charged.

Fifty Cents a year will be added when payment delayed beyond six mouths. paper discontinued until all arrearages are a repet at the option of the Publisher.

RATES OF ADVERTISING :

THANSIEST ADVENTISEMENTS. Per square of 12 as or loss, of this type, for first insert a of independent insertion, 25 cents.

the number of insertions must be marked on abertisoments, or they will be continued in ordered out. Transient advertisements to er A liberal discount will be made on the tes to those advertising by the year. Linal Norices will be inserted at 15 cents per

st. Albans Business Directory.

BROOKS & EVART'S (successors to A. R. longhton) First National Oyster House, ands of Lake Street, opposite Morrison's st Alleans, Vt. Oysters served in every and sold by the kog, quart or gallon, 162

DEHARDSON'S PICTURE GALLERY Main, opposite Bank Street, St. Albane, (p. Stairs.) Open all hours of the day, (p. Stairs.) All the latest styles of piecesses at this Gallery. Albums and Figures, Stereoscopic and eard Fictures of part Scengry, all at low prices. Call early first.

L. SELLOR AT LAW. Office in Union St. Albana, Vt. 150-tf.

DENTON & WILSON, Attorneys at Law, [From Every Saturday.]

Ond Scholters in Chancery. Office in Noa New Block, St. Albans Vt. Attend Courts

How I Set About Paying my Debts. Block, St. Albans Vt. Allemonile, in Franklin, Orioans, and Lamonile, 150-tf W. D. WILBOX.

BAILEY & DAVIS, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS AT LAW and Solicitors in Characty. Office in the rooms formerly ocentral by White & Sowies, Gadcomb's Building, Others, Vi. 97-ly PARK DAVIS.

BUCK, ATTORNEY AND COUNSEL-LOR AT LAW. Also, Agent for first ass Insurance Companies, and for obtaining hers pay, &c., mee over Weeks store.

EORGE P. HOUGHTON, Attorney and

A KINGMAN BLOCK, Main St., opposite the pogational Church.

JOUGHTON'S First National Oyster House.

CHAPMAN, dealer in Groceries and WALKER BROS., Agts. Lake Street, St. Allones, Vt.

JERBERT BRAINERD, dealer in For c

St. Albans, Vt. E. H. HUNTINGTON. Watch Repairing and Engrav-

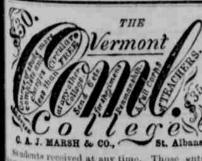

ARSHALL MASON, Dealer in Dry Goods, A Yankee Notions, Zophyr Wools, Paper angings, Oil Shados, and Curtain Fixtures. Saford Block, St. Albans, Vt. 104

RAINERD & SPEAR, dealers in Fancy and Domestic Dry Goods, plain and fately interes, Cobergs, &c. 117. an Main Street, St. Albans, Vt.

C. POST & CO., dealers in Dry Goods 4. and choice Family Groceries. Corner of dis and Fairfield Streets, St. Albans, Vt. 117 g. c. Post, L. JANES.

TATROS BATHING AND HAIR centing and hair dying. Ladies' and hair cuting, shampooing and curling, made to order. Cash paid for Ladies, Hot and cold Baths at all hours o who have served three years and have but $100 bounty from the United States, aving enlisted for three years, were distanced consequence of wounds, and the widten, or parents of any soldier who enthree years, under a promise of only stated and thought on the service, are ental additional bounty of ONE HUNDILARS!

EDGAR TATRO,

A MESSAGE.

ET R. A. W.

The sun is almost set.

And ere the dawn they tell me then will be Far on thy journey o'er the soundless sea.

Why are my eyelids wet?

Give me thine hand.

And kiss me, dearest, for the old times sake. I have a message I would have thee take Unto the better land.

There was a time, Dost thou remember, it was long ago; But times and faces live in hearts, we know, To they in thine? Canst thou look back, sweet one, And see the hillside, and the shadowy lane, The meadows, bright with clover bloom again, The setting sum?

Comes, as to me,
The breath of perfume from the locust trees,
And are there voices in the evening breeze,
Which speak to thee?
And hast then still,
Within diy heart, forever more the same, Iname,
His face, who on the highest rock hath left his
On youder hill?

And then wilt see him ere the dawn of day; O, tell him that to night you heard me say,

His memory in our hearts, is sweet and bright, Our grief as see as on the winter's night We heard that he was dead. Yet tell him, still [lies, lafe hath its blessings, though his dear head In its lone grave beneath the sniny skies.

That we should keep our sethsh great at ear.

And win some joy and subshine from each day,

To creen the night.

O, take to him one heart throb, it will tell With yearning tenderness, how well, how well We love him yet.

AN OXFORD STORY.

"Now my dear Frank," said my taking in entering university life."

tentively.

find such advantages of use."

W. B. M. GOWAN, DENTIST. Onless triving no small consolation from the agents who would be happy to place fact that I should not be obliged to en- X. Q's name on their registers, &c. will see when we go to the drawing- and the next morning I met Miss Gaw-the trade.

100 father; "and I shall give orders for you a man is all honors, he cannot pick ing over the books with my new pupil. In the trade.

We clip from the Mirror and Farhis relations, and, with military to be supplied with sound and wholeand choose, and you must take what He was a very nice bey, but with a far Never shall I forget his look of indigpromptness, led the way, going with some port. On this I shall expect you they send you, or get nothing at all." too conversational tendency, I thought, nant amazement when he learns that ing them, there may be others as us to Canadagua. The incidents con-TARRAR BROTHERS, IRON MER- to live without incurring any debts. But I was not reduced to this; for as I tried hard to keep his mixed (and his son's tutor had proposed to his good or better. There is a good deal nected with that journey were full of about my paying all debts by my earn- a man who is a gentleman, up to the tions suggested, while Horace and into an engagement! Sir, you should calves, and has read a paper before are, but I would rather see Gen. Jackthat association describing his experto, St. Albans, Vt.

about my paying all debts by my earn- a man who is a gentleman, up to the tions suggested, while Horace and into an engagement! Sir, you should calves, and has read a paper before are, but I would rather see Gen. Jackthat association describing his experson elected than to have Mr. Adams that association describing his expertor, St. Albans, Vt.

Take Notans, Vt.

The part of Man and Bank in the purpose of giving weight bunting, &c. But what would your fore us. merely for the purpose of giving weight hunting, &c. But what would your fore us. to his warning, or seasoning his advice father say to your taking a private tu- "Florence is coming this evening," WYMAN & HUNTINGTON, dealers in Fine Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Sterl-with the condiment called "solemn torship with the condiment called "solemn torship chaff." Of course I had no intention plan? then of incurring debts; but I felt that > versity experiences. Five hundred a undertaken an engagement." this a servant was added), and a gra-tuitous supply of port wine, seemed in "He would not allow me to act disties. So, relying on the plenitude of ces. read them very carefully; and good of a man immediately," not wasted on any pursuits that could prudence, &c.

iners the university rules obliged me to engage in, I may say that the former always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. Never shall I tive, on the condition of his taking the mer always died game. when all one s mental pugnishes a real intoxication by pupil as we aligned from the form a short time, and that will be the partial knowledge reach the whole of pension.

As the Colonel and I entered the train.

Figure Responsibility is almost equivalent to partial knowledge reach the whole of pension.

As the Colonel and I entered the train.

Figure Responsibility is almost equivalent to partial knowledge reach the whole ancestors, a more ancient and honoration of pension.

The properties of the train of the partial knowledge reach the whole ancestors, a more ancient and honoration of pension.

The properties of the train of the trai partial knowledge reach the war soon ratting away in a hansom a feeling to last long, must develop it early sobriety. If a stick of timber length of a subject; while enthusassic of pension.

length of a subject; while enthusassic of pension.

length of a subject; while enthusassic of pension.

Largo Apassionato, from Besthoven's to my father's town-house.

Largo Apassionato, from Besthoven's to my father's town-house.

ST. ALBANS, VT., FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1867.

that sort of things, you know," said rising. discussing my plans over a eigar,

"Grantham, my coach, will manage prise at seeing me. that for me, I have no doubt," I an-plough," he observed.

Bearing these words in mind, it was the fire. father, replenishing his glass the while with a feeling of justifiable pride that, with some very particular port the old a few mornings after, I carried some casily until the master of the house "I have thought so, certainly," res- deed!" he concluded by saying.

the letters in triumph.

I should have to accept the alternative tween us respecting my running into commencing to translate. debt," I explained. "I shall write and A few words shall dismiss my uni- tell him what I have done when I have music, I took great delight; so, a grand it caught me. My father, to whom I ly, and we found several things to say he said. piano-forte, hired at a rate that would wrote at once, to communicate my to one another across the table. I "Mr. Luxton, I must postpone this good sweet hay, in a tub, the tea have paid its price once a year, formed baving entered into this engagement, thought her extremely pleasant, I rematter until my return," he said, has a conspicuous feature in my rooms. replied that, had he been consulted member, and remarkably pretty. She tily, looking at his watch. "I have ing 7 pounds of meal (wheat barley bearing a remarkable resemblance to All these likings (and many others of prior to my binding myself, he would seemed about nineteen, and had just not more than ten minutes to spare, and beans mixed) stirred into a tub- one another, are in the habit of shaven an expensive nature might be added), not have consented to such a plan; but returned, I found, to my horror, from I appeal to your honor not to make ful before use. The same hay will ing at the same barber shop. Not long together with a great taste for pleasant that now, as the engagement was all a visit to some friends in the West. any unfair use of this unfortunate in- bear a second infusion during the ago one of the brothers entered the and genial society, sufficed to render ready formed, I must fulfil it; at all "My daughter tells me she met some terruption." He passed out of the night, for morning. Two quarts per shop early in the morning, and was my career an expensive one. One events, until another tutor could be Miss Luxtons while she was away, room. A new idea struck me, and I head, with an equal amount of cold duly shaved by a German who had thing I can conscientiously aver: if found. I had been imprudent in not Arc they any relations of yours?" followed quickly. money was wasted thoughtlessly on accepting a situation befitting my asked Mrs. Gawston. I may say that "I had thought of going to town as they can eat crushed corn, sweet this afternoon for the night, and Ru-hay and roots are placed within er brother came in, and underwent a degree day. So I sent round to collect style at Luxton would hardly mit me "You play, perhaps, or sing?" my various bills, determining to be under the circumstances, and possibly "I play the violin, and I sing to a walked in.

business-like, and to arrive at an exact fearing some banter from my father, I certain extent." I was longing for her "My dear Frank, I had bardly extheir bills, not to ask for payment, but country (flat and uninteresting to my pledges, as it were, of their confidence in my honor and solvency. After two or three efforts in addition (com-rival, about half-past five in the even-pound) that brought each time vary- ing. I was ushered at once to my beding results, I arrived at the conclusion room, and I sat down by the accepta- was trilling with the keys, possibly I said. that I owed nearly £800. My father's bic fire to have a good warm. All at she feared asking the tutor such a "You will both dine here to night, at several private houses, It was not words recurred to me, not by any once the thought came into my mind, thing. I was desperate. "Shall I fetch of course, and sleep," said my father, until he had knocked at the clergy-means for the first time, and I set my. "How about going down to dinner? my violin and music," I said. With-shaking hands with Rupert. "I am man's widow's door that he obtained self to wondering how I could earn it. Is the tutor usually there? Does he out waiting for an answer I went. The going to Luxton to-morrow by the 11.- a dish of hot tea. It greatly comfort-Literature—the writing of a successful wear full dress?" The servant said next moment we had commenced, and 45 train; couldn't you come too? A ed the weary soldier. Just before he novel that should accomplish the nothing about dinner time. Solving during the evening we played togeth- change will do you good and your sis- set out on his journey he offered her whole matter as by the magic of a these questions by the reflection that er, and then, emboldened by the besters will be delighted to see you. They many of the magic of a these questions by the reflection that er, and then, emboldened by the besters will be delighted to see you. They many of the magic of a these questions by the reflection that er, and then, emboldened by the besters will be delighted to see you. They many of the many of the pains, which she designing, we sang together. What happens twice, and abroad, and I have not undeceived the many of the many Hatfield, of Balitol, with whom I was I bowed, deriving some comfort room one evening, near dinner-time, I superable as they appeared.

"Well, if you get any decent thing, before," she continued, after shaking had adopted in my advertisement in petite, and dinner passed off with suf-ciennes, as she-" tional advantages to—to—it's ahem !" scarce." I hurried away, as I was late he filled his glass, and drew his chair "O, no! certainly not," I enterposed without opening them, reserving this near the fire, on the departure of his mined me to learn my fate from Miss reader may conclude, no further obpleasing task for Hatfield's room and wife for the drawing room. I followed Gawston before she left, as I felt that, jections were made to our engage day evening, says:

"Who?" I asked.

No. of College Journal, giving of all this expenditure may be easily concealing my real position in life used to wonder whether she had but so?"

There was one thing in live to the used to wonder whether she had but so?"

concealing my real position in life used to wonder whether she had but so?"

while at Clawston Flats. My father, one dress), and to feel my teeth on "Concealing my real position in life used to wonder whether she had but so?" while at Gawston Flats. My father, one dress), and to feel my teeth on "Certainly," said the Colonel, fook> forget those last final rounds, con- name. This condition did not bind they (being really my sisters) were "Rupert, do you mind just coming ducted across that awful green table, the children, however; and so my siswhen all one's mental pugilistic science ters and myself were Luxtons, as we ous effort to change the conversation. said to my pupil as we alighted from ly, you will have a real intoxication on in breatmess shence, and characteristic of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image of the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image. That movement is table in the drawing room, where we that it cannot be long lived unless it. And if young men waver, and vanily the stick becomes aged me with smiling glances or image. aginary pats on the same of recogni- plan of getting a tutorship was accom- more than beautiful." Thus pressed, were waiting for my father to appear, enters the judgment, and fancy fills late, put responsibility on them and as impracticable. A brighter one suedined at seven.

It was so arranged, and the next this as a souvenir of him. The ticket ceeded. I would get a tutership. It was dark when I had arrived, but half hour during the day we started for Luxton.

Many men of my acquaintance a hurried glance had shown me that time for a little music. Then, also, In the meanwhile Rupert had, with a street in Mayfair and a house in ing, but diessed very severely in black filled. We often met before dinner in without abusing the Colonel's appeal glanced curiously at it and was amazvelvet, rose from a chair near the fire the hbrary, where there was a large to my honor, I had managed to let ed to discover the often advertised "Mr. Luxton, I presume," she said Japanese screen that shut out the Florence know before I left that the number of the ticket which, had drawn butler had brought out that evening in my honor, "as you start for Oxford on where I was going to breakfast. He greeted me very pleasantly, perearly to-morrow, I may as well say now I had called at the Union, on my way, haps just a little stiffly, and then I from Lady Fitz-Pedigry for her, as it what little I wish to say to you respect to look at the letter-rack; and I must gave Mrs. Gawston my arm, and we will take her away at once. I have ing the important step you are about confess to a feeling of considerable went in to dinner. I cannot say I felt accepted it for her, and I thought of cept. Rupert and I propose staying aid her, all her efforts were in vain, surprise when I beheld there sundry quite at my ease in my new position; going with her to town to-morrow, or here two nights before returning I took some filberts and listened at- missives bearing the mystic initials I but this did not interfere with my ap- the day after, to see Madame Valen- again to the Flats. Enc osed is a let-

A sowles, Attorney and Counsellor at Law and Solicitor in Chancery. Onice over Antional Bank, St. Albans, Vt. S. Will attend to Collections, and prosecute as against the United States for Arrears of the manual to Solicitor, We have never had a resident tutor and or only to Soldiers, Wildow's and Invalid's released to Solicitor, We have never had a resident tutor of the continued, "and we are anxious to make you as comfortable as serious to Soldiers, Wildow's and Invalid's lightly on the continued to write to her; "Behold the triumphs of advertising of the care."

(somewhat vaguely, perhaps).

(somewhat vaguely).

(somewhat vaguely).

(somewhat vaguely).

(so GILMAN, DENTIST. Once in the the accepted use of the term), you will and education!" I rejoined, showing your company at dinner at seven, if and that night I wrote a candid letter. you prefer dining late, but we hope which I purposed sending her if no I assented to all this, inwardly de- Alas! they were all circulars from you will quite consult your own incli- opportunity for private conversation served in every style. Orders alled that meal I requested a few minutes' the keg, Quart or Gallon. Laberal to the trade.

"I shall allow you £500 a year and they said Haffield; "but, of course, unless that meal I requested a few minutes' that meal I requested a few minu > ties was firmness. His was genuine "If you are really in carnest about proctors had over been down on me. was that you were a gentleman. This of his flesh should have come to our said to us, on Monday morning, "I firmness, and it had nothing to do this, I think I know of a thing that Once or twice I found myself tripping, is not the conduct of a gentleman to table. with its weak counterfeit, obstinacy. will exactly suit you. It is to prepare and only too ready to run on into the enter my bonse, to undermine the af-I knew that he meant what he said ayoung fellow for Oxford. They want unclassical conversation such ques- fections of my daughter, to entrap her Club makes a speciality of rearing am as zealous an Adams man as you > with the condiment called "solemn torship? Does he know of your be said, one morning about a week after my arrival, as he was finding the penniless suitor, who had abused his four cows of his own, raised fifty calves had told him that we had concealed "It is the result of an agreement be- place (always a long business) before peculiar position by using the many in 1864, 55 in 1865, and in 1866, 55 Morgan, raised a false cry of adducopportunities it afforded him of mak- were weaned, but three have been lost tion, for political effect, and that the ing love to a young lady, a reputed by mismanagement. He takes the object of hunting up old Adams, who "Florence; my sister, you know. It herress of apparently superior social calves from about the first of March, was stationed at Fort Niagara at the is always jollier when she is here. rank. I could not help being amused, when 10 days old, paying 30 shillings time, was merely to keep alive the exyear, with the expenses of a horse (to But, if Sir Grahame objects, would You ought to see her ride. Most girls nevertheless, as I reflected how differ- ($7.50 in gold) each for them. They citement. are great muffs, I think; but she isn't ent his tone would have been had he have for the first three or four days Without denying or affirming any known all. Something prompted me three or four quarts of milk at a meal: thing, we asked Col. Thomas to take contemplation a mine of wealth that honorably," I answered; "and were I I heard a little more of Florence, not to tell him yet, but to go on pres- then gradually some food in the shape Adams aside and talk with him, as he would be fully equal to all my necessities. So, relying on the plenitude of ces."

>
> Admin as the consequention a mine of weath that bondered to the consequention a mine of weath that we were the consequention at the consequention and the consequention a mine of weath that consequention are consequention at the consequention and the consequential and the consequention at the consequential and my resources, I started a second horse, and even a third during the hunting to risk it, I can offer you a tutership posite me. Mrs. Gawston murmared cussion, the matter was seemingly go- cess I use half oil-cake, the best I can denounce me as such; but that, on season. I liked (in common with all in the family of a General Gawston the customary words, and we bowed ing hopelessly against me, when a buy. Take a large bucket, capable of the other hand, if his conversation other Oxonians I ever made acquaint- Flats, Norfolk, where you will have across the table. The conversation sharp knock at the door interrupted holding six gallons, put into it two with Adams changed his opinion, to ance with) easy-chairs and luxurious one pupil to look after, be resident in was general, as our party was so small. our debate. "Come in," said the Colgallons of scalding water; then add say nothing. Col. Thomas had his furniture. I was fond of looking at the house, and receive a salary at the Miss Gawston, who I found was grown onel, impatiently. A servant entered 7 lbs. of linseed cake, finely ground. handsomely-bound books, if I did not rate of £150 a year. They are in want up, and not the somewhat hoydenish with a note. It was a telegram, cal- Stir the oil-cake and water well to- When leaving his hotel, he took us young lady her brother's description ling the Colonel at once to town on gether, adding two gallons of hay tea cordially by the hand, but spoke no pictures I had quite it passion for. In I caught at the bart, and in return had led me to expect, joined in it free-important business, military, I think The hay tea is made by pouring word.

terms; but I had every evening to en- pert expressed a wish to accompany reach; vetches as soon as ready, and similar operation at the hands of the be condemned as vicious. The result There was one thing in favor of my counter the severity of black velvet (I me," I said; "will you allow him to do mangolds, of which a supply should same barber. In the evening the third

I was never ploughed; but in those once Sir Grahame Luxton, had sever- edge if by any chance my hand touched ing relieved. "If you wish it, you house, are kept very clean and quiet, I was never ploughed, but in the example of the additional her robe as we marched in to dinner. might remain away longer, not necessarphic with fresh water daily, and opened, and the master of the house knowledge of my position. After some left Oxford as soon as I could, and in to ask me to bring my violin down. pected to see you," he said, as he on estant clergyman, unmed Herald, livpersuasion, the coy tradesmen sent in a few days I was driving across the I saw a music volume close by labelled tered. "You are looking very well in jed in a small town of Libau, in Courhad done so. Certainly they were the place was evidently a gentlemon's; she rode very well; and as her broth- some wonder (but he was too well-bred as a picture that it was well night in usually honors men, and not heirs to and this impression was confirmed or and I rode almost daily, we often a boy to make many remarks,) asked pieces. The number which drew the baroneteies and ten or twenty thous- when I wandered down about a quar- found ourselves taking the same direct me if Sir Grahame Penbreston was my capital prize was repeatedly announced. and a year. But I might seek one in ter to seven, and beat about among tion; so, altogether, I saw a good deal father, and I saw him writing a letter ed in the newspapers, but no one the guise of an ordinary A. B., and some doors in a hall for that which benone need know that my prospects in longed to the drawing-room. Taking suit? Before a formight was over I or sister. I felt very much disposed One day a gentleman happened to enlife pointed to the possession of a very of lucky shot at one with a white har-was deeply in love, and my intention to write to the latter, but I determinate her her house, and seeing the mutilate old title, and far-spreading estates in the two western counties, not to mention a lady, not unpleasant look-look out for another tutor was unful. It is hardly necessary to say that, glass and frame of a looking glass, from the fact that she betrayed no sur- overheard some words that made me Arrived at Luxton Court. I wrote poor clergyman's wife. The Emperpause before entering, and cough vi- to Mrs. Gawston, having previously or of Russia offered her $16,000, and "Colone. Gawston has only just elently, if not affectedly, in order that enlightened my father as to the true a life annuity of $800, for it. She accome in, or he would have seen you my presence might be known. state of affairs. The Gawstons, if not cepted the imperial offer, and the "About my dear"-the voice was as ancient a family as ours, were emi-clock is to this day one of the chief or keep it for two months, I'm in for a hands with me. "You must have had Colonel Gawston's -"don't you think, nently respectable, and my father, who or naments of the Winter Palace at St. a cold journey; pray take that chair by my dear, that Mr. Luxton is a could make no objections, was pleased Petersburg. The exterior represents rather, just a little, perhaps not pru- to be numerciful in the way of banter. an antique Greek temple, and the in-Compsellor at Law and Solicitor in ChanSt. Albans, Verment. Office near the Postst. Albans, Verment. In the Guardian.

The National Freemason having the courses.

"Mr. Luxton, you will take somedon the slight deception I have perfect the outst. Albans, Verment in the Guardian.

"Mr. Luxton, you will not object to hand over to her, and I trust that you will not object to land over to her, and I trust t ter to Miss Gawston, which I hope

Calves Brought up by Hand.

fact that I should not be obliged to encounter any examination at once, as I looked rather blank, as I had no
The scarcity of cattle for the marksponse from aloft was, "I am here, the remained out ston accidentally in the garden about et, and of working ones, and the presand ready." The door was opened. A a HOUGHTON, a, South side Lake my matriculation had already been triappear and south side Lake my matriculation had already been triappear at would seem to make it desirable and in this manner.

The door was opened. A complete than I did. To-morrow we can an hour before breakfast-time. The ent high price of beef and of milk glowing bed of coals in the immense employment in this manner. breakfast, and that when we rose from profitable to raise calves, rather than drive of nine miles in the cold. Adams

REAL BROTHERS, IRON MER.

CHANTS.

CHANTS.

Sais, Glass, Olis, Faints, Agricultural lake and Hain streets, March 16, 1866.

CHANTS.

There is a good of octor. There is a good ience. He has been in the habit of succeed by such a wicked conspiracy I felt he had justice on his side. As procuring the calves dropped on the He then added that a intimate friend scalding water, in the morning, on always be stored if practicable. The per If you give yourself up to the so long as it never vash!" to an increased pension of two dollars on in breathless silence, and encourage that's you," said Rupert, may not disclain the hilarity of disclosion on it, and put a weight on that, and on in breathless silence, and encourage that's you," said Rupert, may not disclain the hilarity of disclosion on it, and put a weight on that, and on the sixteen years of a good me with smiling glances or imself in the line of conduct. While you standing upright wavers, lay a beam all of the above nature, and for arrears of chiefs extra pay, for horses lost in the Universal prisoners of p

History of a Clock,

In 1700 the widow of a poor prot-

TBH NO. 168.

could obtain none; he applied in vain door. Moving very slowly toward the obstacles in our way were not as in- the capital prize in the clock lottery. The valuable clock was given to that hold, of very great importance; but I exclaimed. "Parents must take the do not wish you to sacrifice its educa- bait very easily, or tutors must be more port?" said Colonel Gawston, as appearance. The words I had overheard detergiven to Miss Gawston, and, as the gan excitement, that gentleman, in the words I had overheard detergiven to Miss Gawston, and, as the gan excitement, that gentleman, in the commercial Advertiser of Salurbefore daylight one morning, we rapped at the door of a log cabin. A voice inquired "who is there?" We asked for Elisha Adams. The instant recame down a ladder, said good-by to am sorry to see you taking such an ac;

Thurlow Weed and Masonry.

A BARRER PUZZLED. - Three brothers brother made his appearance, when calves live in a cool, well ventilated the barber dropped his razor in astonishment, and exclaimed: "Vell, mine Gott! dat man hash de fasthast beard I never saw! I shaves him dis mornin', I shaves him at dinner times, and he gomes pack now mit his beard